

Both events are open to the public.
Registration fee is $15 each.
Proceeds benefit the American Indian
Center of Chicago. To register, visit lgcchicago.org/wateratrisk

Questions? Contact American Indian
Center of Chicago at info@aicchicago.org.

Water at Risk:

A Tribal Leaders' Perspective

Thursday, August 17, 2017

ARCHAMBAULT

BESAW

KIEL, MODERATOR

MORNING EVENT

Lincoln Hall at Northwestern
Pritzker School of Law
375 E Chicago Ave, Chicago

7:30-8:00 am Arrival & Networking
8:00-8:45 am Program
8:45-9:30 am Questions

EVENING EVENT

American Indian Center of Chicago
3401 W Ainslie St, Chicago

6:30-7:00 pm Arrival & Networking
7:00-7:45 pm Program
7:45-8:15 pm Questions

REGISTER AT

lgcchicago.org/wateratrisk

Standing Rock Sioux Tribal Chairman David Archambault II and Menominee Tribe of Wisconsin Chairman Gary Besaw will convene in Chicago to speak about tribal sovereignty and water rights.

They will address today's challenges surrounding water rights on sovereign tribal lands from a legal, economic and environmental perspective with local business leaders and community groups. The conversation will be moderated by Doug Kiel, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of History at Northwestern University and a citizen of the Oneida Nation.

Featured in the discussion will be the current legal and environmental struggles of the Menominee Tribe with the Back 40 Mine Project in Michigan and the Dakota Access Pipeline controversy concerning the Standing Rock Sioux.

The dialogue will provide a rare insight into these national and global issues from a Native viewpoint and address how the issues impact our region and our planet.

SPONSORED BY:

Northwestern

LEADERSHIP
GREATER CHICAGO